Your Jewish Journey Begins Here!

The Jewish Center
435 Nassau Street
Princeton, New Jersey

Dear Religious School Families and Students,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome all of you back to our Religious School at The Jewish Center. If you are new to our school we are glad that you will be a part of our TJC family. For those of you who have been with us in the past, you know how proud we are of our school and how much we value the Jewish education that we pass on to our young people. We consider Jewish education to be a partnership between the home and the school. The TJC teachers, administration, rabbi and cantor are excited to be your partners in this sacred journey.

I know that I will see you in the classrooms and in the hallways of the Religious School and I hope that I will see you on Shabbat and holidays as well. In between, feel free to contact me by calling me, sending me an e-mail or stopping me in the building to share with me your thoughts on our program and to let us know if there is anything we can do to help you and your family in your own Jewish learning. We look forward to learning and teaching with young people, parents and families both in and out of the classroom.

I look forward to seeing you in shul.

B'shalom,

Rabbi Adam Feldman

Dear Parents,

On behalf of everyone at The Jewish Center I would like to welcome you to another exciting year at Religious School.

Thank you for entrusting us with your children – the future of the Jewish people. We look forward to sharing an inspiring and productive experience with all of you, a year of helping and watching these students (your children) grow and develop to their fullest potential.

Along with our staff and TJC family, you will share the treasures of our heritage and plant the roots of meaningful Jewish living. Together we will nourish these roots to help the children grow and blossom, as they learn more about themselves and the rich history of the Jewish people. Special events and programs are being planned to enhance and cultivate our students' Jewish living.

This Handbook has been put together to help make things clear and easy for you. As always, feel free to come to me with any issues or concerns. I look forward to partnering with you throughout this exciting year!

B'shalom,

Gila Levin

Curriculum Pillars (Please refer to your Registration Packet for complete descriptions of classes offered or the Religious School website - <http://thejewishcenter.org/Religious-School/Home.aspx>.)

• Hebrew

The school curriculum emphasizes Hebrew as both a sacred and a living language for Jews. Therefore two tracks of Hebrew study have been created: the prayer track and the conversational track.

- Prayer Track: At each grade level, students continue increasing prayer skill competency while becoming more fluent and accurate in Hebrew reading.
 - Gimmel: brachot
 - Daled: Friday Night Service
 - Heh: Shabbat Morning Service
 - Vav: Torah and Musaf
- Conversational Track: There will be a focus on Hebrew letters, words, phrases and short stories. Students will learn how to speak and understand modern Hebrew.

• Story of the Jewish People

The Story of the Jewish People presents a remarkable tale of courage, resilience and adaptation. This pillar will provide a broad overview of the Jewish experience. Its main objective is to teach the students how the Jewish people have flourished by learning from the past, addressing the needs of the present and investing in the future.

- Jewish History: This course of study helps students to better understand Judaism's past so that they can begin to plan for Judaism's future.
- Israel: The essence of Zionism: Jewish people taking their destiny into their own hands. Jewish settlers acquired land, grew their population, earned political power, developed an economy and expressed self-determination all leading to the establishment and sustenance of the Jewish State.

While Israel is universally known as the ancient land and people of the Bible, it is today a dynamic, living and breathing nation. As we take a closer look at Israel, its history, geography, population, politics and culture, we should not forget that it remains God's specially chosen nation, the land of our people since Biblical times.

• Jewish Living

What does it mean to be a Jew? While there are elements of identity and belief, there are also elements of practice - doing what Jews have always done and thus linking ourselves to previous generations and bringing holiness into our lives. Judaism's 613 mitzvot (commandments) guide Jewish practice. The question is not how many of the hundreds of mitzvot we choose to follow but how we might sanctify even the ordinary moments in our life through these rituals.

Discussions in the classroom will turn to many of the core Jewish practices and values, examining Shabbat, holidays, tzedakah, community, tolerance and personal responsibility.

• Sacred Text of the Jewish People

Since we stood at the foot of Mount Sinai, Jewish text has been the center of Jewish life. Our sacred texts contain the stories that shape who we are. They convey values, attitudes and concepts of how we view and understand the world. Text is fundamental to Judaism, inspiring tremendous devotion and controversy. Even the Torah is not without its challenging points, especially in light of modern values. However, the basic truths and wisdom in Jewish text have spoken to millions of people for thousands of years and continue to do so today.

Students will have individualized education plans created for them in consultation with parents, teachers and a special needs coordinator. Those interested in partaking of any of these services should contact the Director (Gila Levin 609-921-7207).

Tutoring

When a student is not on grade level parents will be notified.

- It may be recommended that the student have tutoring during class time by a volunteer in 15-20 minute sessions depending upon availability and timing. There is no charge for this service.
- Parents can also arrange for private tutoring at their own expense. The school will provide names of approved tutors and will discuss a study program with the selected tutor.

Arrival Procedures

- Students are expected to arrive on time and remain in class until dismissal.
- All cars must proceed to the rear parking lot. Cars must either be parked in a lined parking space and children be escorted to the Religious School building OR children may be dropped off in the half circle – please no idling so the circle flows. Do Not allow unescorted children off in any other place.
- Bicycle racks are located in the courtyard for use by children who bike to school. Walkers/Bikers must have a signed permission form on file in the school office.
- For early arrivals on Tuesday and Wednesday, there is free supervised care. Students arriving prior to 3:50 pm should report to the Youth Lounge in the Sanctuary building. Please note: the playgrounds are unsupervised and students may not use them.

Dismissal Procedures

- Dismissal is from the Sanctuary lobby only. Teachers will escort their classes to the Lobby and remain with them until a parent or carpool person arrives.
- For the safety of all children, parents are required to park their cars, come into the Lobby and escort their children to the parking lot.
- Children may not wait outside in the courtyard, parking lot or on Nassau Street for parents or carpools.
- If you sign a release for your children to walk down the street or cross the field to the corner of Cedar and Nassau (across from church), you may wait on the right side of Cedar Lane.
- Early Dismissal: a parent note must go with your child to his/her class/teacher and the parent goes to the class to pick up his/her child early. No child may wait in the parking lot or courtyard for an early pick-up.

Security System

The Jewish Center School is now equipped with cameras and video screens. The two doors to enter the school will be locked at all times. If you wish to enter the school, proceed to the farthest door from the playground: 1. press the black button on the bottom right of the keypad; 2. listen for a beep and pull the door open. You may be asked to introduce yourself and state the reason for your arrival. If no one responds, try again. If still no one responds, you will need to go across the courtyard and see one of the Administrative Assistants in the Synagogue Office for assistance.

School Closings

All decisions with regard to school closings will be made by the Religious School Director. Decisions will be made by 1:30 pm weekdays and by 7:00 am on Sundays. Announcements of school cancellations are no longer made on radio stations. They will be on the school answering machine, 609-921-7207, and via a school wide e-mail.

Lost and Found

The lost and found box is located in the School Office. Please label all clothing, books and personal items so that they can be easily identified and returned.

Donations

Making a contribution to the Religious School is a meaningful way to honor or memorialize a loved one. There are several funds connected with the Religious School.

- The Religious School Fund: This fund is for technology, curriculum writing and teacher professional development.
- Steven Levin Special Education Fund: This fund was established by Cheryl Levine in memory of her husband Steven Levine. This fund is for special needs students and the Religious School Yachdav Program.
- The Irving N. Rabinowitz Computer Fund: This fund was established by Sandy Rabinowitz in memory of her husband Irving Rabinowitz. This fund provides for computer software for the Religious School.

Tzedakah

Tzedakah means more than just charity. It means justice. In the Religious School, we incorporate Tzedakah as part of our curriculum and encourage children to contribute to worthy causes. Children learn about community needs and worldwide concerns.

Tzedakah is collected on Sunday mornings. Each class has a Tzedakah box and the money is then donated to various charitable organizations on a monthly basis.

TJC Youth Groups

Nitzanim (Buds) is our youth group for students in Alef & Bet (1st and 2nd grades). Students will participate in a variety of creative social programs throughout the year, relating to the Jewish holidays. Programming will emphasize fun while playing games and learning. TJC children will enjoy these activities on the grounds of The Jewish Center.

Haverim (Friends) invites all Gimmel and Daled students (3rd and 4th grades) to join together for an afternoon or evening of fun. Haverim is designed to provide the children with fun activities while promoting friendships that will grow stronger through their years at TJC. Students will participate in social activities, holiday celebrations and sleepovers.

Kadima (Onward) offers 5th and 6th graders the opportunity to participate in youth programs with their TJC peers within a social Jewish atmosphere. The social activities in this group will focus on holidays and Israeli themes while having lots of fun! Participation in this group will create opportunities for new friendships with other children at TJC.

Bogrim (Upper class) is a brand new youth group for Zayin students (7th graders). We recognize that this is a busy year for each TJC Zayin student (especially with all of the b'nai mitzvot many of them are attending) yet we realize the importance of offering them social programming. With only three programs during this year, we hope that every Zayin student will be able to participate.

TJC Teen Programming is focused on the Tichon student and all TJC teenagers (8th through 12th grades). Like Facebook and Twitter, we create a social network for all our teens. It doesn't matter what school they attend or from which surrounding area of Princeton they live. They will have the opportunity to connect with each other at TJC and participate in social, holiday and religious programs. For those interested in the wonderful programs that USY provides, we will include all the information that they will need for regional programs and conventions.

The Children's Library

Our Library is an important resource for children both individually and with their classes. Relevant Jewish books are not always available in the community and our library provides a wonderful assortment for children of all ages. Our classes will have the opportunity to visit the Library; books are used for class work and projects as well as for individual reading.

The Children's Library is located in the Sanctuary building and can be accessed through either the Parking Lot Lobby or through the Social Hall.

New books are purchased through the Religious School Library Fund. Donating a book is a wonderful way to commemorate a child's birthday or special occasion.

The Adult Library is also available for older students and provides a wide range of books for reading and research.

Illness and Medical Emergencies

If a child becomes ill in school, a parent will be phoned and asked to take the child home. If a parent is not available, the person listed on the emergency contact form will be phoned. Please notify the school office about emergency contact changes. If we cannot reach a parent or your contact person and it is an emergency situation, we will seek medical treatment for the child. In a non-emergency situation, a sick student will be kept in the school office until the parent or contact person arrives.

We will not dispense ANY medication, including ointments, creams and lotions to any children. Please do not send any medication to the school for your child to self-administer.

The following will be done if a child has an open cut that needs attention:

- The attending person will wash his/her hands with soap and water.
- The child's cut will be washed with soap and water.
- If necessary, a band-aid will be put on the cut.

We do not have a nurse or physician on staff. Please note that some staff members are CPR-certified.

Please report any contagious condition, such as chicken pox, strep throat, conjunctivitis or head lice, which occurs among all school populations, to the Principal immediately, so that other parents can be informed of possible exposure. Your child's name will not be mentioned.

Allergies

Because of the limitations already imposed by the necessity of maintaining a Kosher facility, coupled with the possibility of requests for accommodations for children with various food allergies such as milk, fish, chocolate, nuts, peanuts, egg, etc., it is not feasible/possible for The Jewish Center to institute a total ban on a food group to which a child may be allergic. Consequently, alternative safeguards must be arranged.

If your child requires the use of an Epipen because of a food or other allergy, please take note of The Jewish Center's policy:

- The family must provide one Epipen for the First Aid Kit and one for the child's classroom.
- The family must train or arrange for training of Staff or child in the use of the Epipen.
- The family must periodically ascertain that the Epipens are in place and currently effective.
- The family is to provide the child's snack each day or for a special occasion.

The Religious School staff will try, to the best of their ability, to keep the aforementioned child from ingesting or contacting foods or other substances known to contain any components of the allergen. In the event of an adverse reaction, someone on staff will try to administer the Epipen and summon professional help.

The officers and staff of The Jewish Center disclaim any liability and responsibility for any damages, monetary or otherwise, which could be incurred by the aforementioned child or family if there is an adverse outcome or reaction, as we are not medically equipped to deal with a severe allergy.

The officers and staff of The Jewish Center do not want to exclude your child from our excellent school. However, we trust that you will appreciate that in view of the extraordinary risks that severe allergies impose, as a religious institution running a school, we must try to protect both your child and The Jewish Center, its staff, those who may volunteer their time and energy as officers, class parents, or event helpers who try to be good Samaritans in case of an accident. We will do our best, but we cannot assume the liability for less than perfect results.

Snacks

All snacks must be Kosher and dairy. No meat is permitted. Fruits, veggies, and water are good choices.

Children who arrive early during the week may bring a snack. Such snacks must be finished prior to class time, as no snacks are allowed during class.

Kashrut Regulations for The Jewish Center

Since Biblical times, the Jewish People have always believed that Kashrut is an important value. The laws of Kashrut were first described in the Torah and then developed in Rabbinic texts. Throughout our history, Jews have taken one of the most basic things we do as human beings and raised it to a level of sanctity.

Just as we begin and end our meals with blessings to remind us that eating is a religious act so, too, we have certain standards of what food is acceptable and what is not acceptable. An equally important standard is that we want everyone to feel comfortable in our community, especially when it comes to eating in our Synagogue. Therefore, the Religious Affairs Committee, in consultation with Rabbi Feldman, has established these regulations for Kashrut at The Jewish Center. We have established these standards as a way of helping people understand the importance we give to Kashrut and we do so in a way that helps everyone feel comfortable with our standards.

- Only meat products purchased from and delivered by one of our acceptable kosher caterers may be brought into the building. No other meat products may be brought into the kitchens, social hall, lobby or any other part of either building. This includes individual lunches for our students.
- All products brought into The Jewish Center must carry a symbol of Kashrut supervision such as U or K. This applies to all dairy products, cake mixes, etc. Major supermarkets in our area have extensive kosher sections including the Kosher Experience at Shop Rite on Route 1. There are also many places to buy kosher baked goods. For more information about where such products can be bought, please contact The Jewish Center Office.
- All fresh fruits and vegetables are acceptable in The Jewish Center.
- Only kosher fish may be brought into the building. Acceptable fish includes tuna, salmon, flounder, lox and sole.

- When a meal is being prepared in one of the two kitchens, please do not use the other kitchen unless absolutely necessary. It is much safer to do all work for a particular meal in the appropriate kitchen.
- If you would like to bring baked goods into the building, we ask that you purchase these baked goods at an acceptable bakery. If they have been baked in someone's home, they should either be baked in a kosher oven or in disposable pans using disposable utensils. Please bring these utensils with you to serve them at The Jewish Center. Please do not use our utensils for these baked goods.

These standards apply to the school building and the main building as well as all parts of the building including the kitchens, the social hall, the lobby, the libraries, offices and all classrooms.

All matters of Kashrut at The Jewish Center, including questions, clarifications and other issues should be brought to Rabbi Feldman's attention. More information of Kashrut can be found in such books as Dresner's The Jewish Dietary Laws, or Levi and Kaplan's Guide for the Jewish Homemaker.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

- Tuition is billed in two installments: the first installment is due by August 1st and the second by December 1st. If a child is withdrawn from the school within the first two weeks of class, a refund will be given. After the two-week period, parents are responsible for payment of the first installment. If withdrawal is made after December 31st, parents are responsible for the full year's tuition.
- Zayin and Tichon parents are responsible for payment of tuition for the entire Zayin and Tichon year regardless of Bar/Bat Mitzvah date or class attendance.
- Tuition and activity fees are established at the annual Congregational meeting in late May. The school's budget is covered by the general budget of The Jewish Center and by students' tuition.
- Current Religious School fees per year are as follows:

Grade	Annual Tuition
Gan Katan	$310

Financial Aid

Financial aid is available for Religious School tuition from The Jewish Center. The Jewish Federation of Princeton Mercer Bucks also funds tuition scholarships that are administered by The Jewish Center. To request financial aid, call the Financial Office at The Jewish Center at 921-0100. Applications are also available in the Religious School office.
